In viewing these DVD's you will marvel at the amazing wonders of Creation and see the awesome powers of a loving Creator. They are excellent additions to any home, church or school library. Flying on Wings of Beauty God's awesome and simultaneously intricate workmanship is clearly seen in the magnificent, yet lightweight butterfly. Also, on Machines of Beauty you will be mesmerized at the depiction of a seed bursting into a full-grown plant. In Somewhere Out There, the mysteries of the planets in our solar system will be explored through children's eyes. The Long Journey Follow along with the instincts of salmon as they fight all the odds to make their final journey home. Then explore the vital role our bloodstream plays in the sustenance of our bodies in Streams of Life. And, Life on the Move traces the pathway a tiny seed must travel if it can fulfill its destiny to become a mature plant. The Clown-Faced Carpenter During the harsh winter months when many animals have gone south, birds, squirrels, and other animals who stay in the cold lands find food high above the snowy grounds. This food is the very acorns that the generous woodpecker has placed in the trees. Only God, the Master Craftsman could make The Clown-Faced Carpenter to store food for an entire forest. The Wonder of You A quarterback draws his arm to pass the football. His eyes focus on the receiver, then he releases the ball with perfect aim - all thanks to the amazing human machine, revealed in The Wonder of You. Even the finest man-made structures can't match the human skeleton's complexity. In The Wonder of You, you'll discover how it has everything it needs, down to the finest detail. The Power of Plants Watch as a flower splits the sidewalk with mind-boggling strength and then see time-lapse photography reveal the secrets behind God's beautiful gardening work. In It's a Small World go exploring in the fascinating world of microorganisms. And then view the award-winning biographical piece about the most active of insects, Busy as a Bee. Treasure Hunt Gain a new appreciation for God's intimate crafting of the material world as you follow miners in search of buried treasure. Watch out for a close-up look at the fins, fur and feathers of all kinds in Animals Move. And then don't be afraid as you pay a visit to the feared, but sometimes friendly world of the Eight-Legged Engineer.
